

ADJUSTMENT OF BUSINESS AND LABOR IS URGED

Best Social Worker Is Man Who Does Honest Day's Toil.

HARDING STATEMENT

Senator Addresses Group Of Professional Men At Front Porch.

Marion, O., Sept. 23.—"The best social welfare worker in the world is the man or woman who does an honest day's toil," declared Senator Warren G. Harding here today, addressing a group of professional men who came by motor and train from Columbus and nearby towns.

Most of the senator's callers were members of the Ohio Dental association. Senator Harding made them a brief non-political speech praising the work they were doing and dwelling upon the need for better health conditions in American business and industrial life.

"The spirit of all our citizenship," he said, "must be service—a willingness to serve intelligently, to train for humane service to cleave to an idealism of deeds and honest toil and scientific accomplishments, rather than to serve by mere words."

"We must awaken the conscience of the ignorant and the misguided to the fact that the best social welfare worker in the world is the man or woman who does an honest day's toil."

"We must awaken their conscience to recognize that American business is not a monster, but an expression of God-given impulses to create, and the savior and guardian of our happiness, our homes and an equal opportunity for all in America."

"It is equally true that we must awaken the conscience of American business to new interest in the welfare of American human beings. Men, women and children of America are not commodities. To treat them as commodities is only to forget the responsibility we owe to the brotherhood of man, but also it is to be blind to the fact that American business cannot flourish nor the material prosperity of America be built on a firm foundation until by just work as that to which you have dedicated yourselves—by protection of health, by education, by the preservation of wholesome American motherhood and vigorous and happy American childhood, and national humane spirit of finding expression in enactment of law when need be—we insure the welfare of human resources."

CONTINUE PROBE INTO LIVING COSTS IN CLEVELAND CITY

Fair Price Commission Attacks Problem From Two Angles.

Cleveland, O., Sept. 23.—Continuing their campaign against the high cost of living in the Ohio metropolis, the Cuyahoga County fair price commission is attacking the problem from two angles—rent and food.

Complaints of excessive rents continue to pour in an undiminished stream to the headquarters of the price fixing body. Boost after boost in the rental charges for property are being reported, in some instances tenants reporting that their rent has been raised as many as half a dozen times and that the total increases aggregate 500 per cent.

Commissioners believe that they have discovered a well defined conspiracy among certain property owners to assess "all the traffic will bear" and evade personal responsibility by a system of sub-leasing.

Evidence introduced before the commission shows the widespread existence of such a plan, they assert, and that every sub-lease or supposed "sale" of the property was followed by an increase in the amount charged for rent.

While the probe into rental charges is at its height, the commission has issued an order directing that restaurants reduce prices charged for food at least ten per cent by October 1. All entries are included in this order, while vegetable prices must be cut 15 per cent.

The financial troubles of the board were relieved yesterday when city officials provided a fund of $1,500 to carry on its work.

MACSWINEY NOT DEAD AS REPORTED

London, Sept. 23.—Terence MacSwiney, the hunger striking lord mayor of Cork was still alive in Brixton jail today, although he has now gone without food for 42 days. MacSwiney last night got considerable sleep, it was announced at the jail. When he awoke he suffered severe pains in the head and was very weak.

REACH COAST AFTER 4 MONTHS' HIKE

Miss Beverly Bayard and Miss Sorline Davis of San Francisco, have arrived in New York after walking the entire distance from San Francisco. The girls were out for months and thirteen days on the road. They arrived in New York the picture of health and both declared that despite the strenuous hike, they were healthier and felt better than they ever did in their lives. They made the trip to New York to take up the studies of music and art.

MILLERAND ELECTED PRESIDENT OF FRANCE

Versailles, Sept. 23.—Premier Alexandre Millerand, a socialist, was today elected president of France by the national assembly. He succeeded Paul Deschanel who resigned on account of ill health after holding office for eight months. M. Millerand received 695 votes.

M. Millerand's election to the presidency was assured when the chamber of deputies and the senate in joint session designated him as their official candidate. Opponents of the premier, whose antagonism arose chiefly from M. Millerand's suggestion that the constitution be revised to give the executive more power failed to rally enough strength.

The voting began at 2:45 o'clock. One hour was allotted to balloting. Formal announcement that M. Millerand had been elected president was made by Leon Bourgeois, president of the senate.

After the balloting M. Millerand entered the presidential salon where he was greeted by M. Bourgeois and leading members of the senate and the chamber of deputies.

After the congratulations and felicitations of the parliamentarians, the president-elect joined his family who had been interested spectators in the gallery, during the balloting.

President-elect Millerand and his family then left in a motor car for the Elysee palace—the official residence of the French president in Paris.

M. Millerand was cheered by large crowds along the road and by a great throng which lined the streets in Paris near the presidential palace.

While M. Millerand is normally a socialist he has failed to support any of the radical principles of the socialist party since he became a power in the government. In fact the chief opposition against his designation as the presidential candidate by the senate and the chamber was led by the extremist faction of the socialists in the chamber of deputies.

REPRISAL ATTACKS BY BRITISH MADE; CIVILIANS KILLED

Dublin, Sept. 23.—Reprisal attacks by British soldiers and policemen in County Clare were reported to be spreading today, following a pitched battle between Milltown-Malbay and Lehigh in which four policemen and one soldier were killed. The number of civilians killed, if any was not known.

Soldiers have stationed machine guns along the roads leading to Milltown-Malbay and the town could not be approached at latest reports. There is great activity by British troops throughout the whole country. Part of Milltown-Malbay has been destroyed by fire. The inhabitants fled in panic during the night. Twenty six civilians have been arrested in the vicinity of Milltown-Malbay charged with participation in the battle with soldiers and policemen.

There are indications that within the next few months immigration to the United States will again become extensive. Already shipping offices are receiving great number of applications for passage.

FRANKLINS COME DOWN IN PRICE

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 23.—The Franklin automobile company today announced a reduction of from 17 to 21 per cent in the price of its automobiles.

It was stated that wages would not be reduced. H. H. Franklin, president of the company, in making the announcement stated that price reductions in all lines are necessary to stimulate business.

GOMPER'S USES AIRPLANE

Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 23.—Missing his train at Buffalo, Samuel Gomper, president of the American Federation of Labor, came here today by airplane. He is to address the quadrennial convention of the American Association of Mechanics tomorrow.

FALL ELECTION HINGES AROUND FOUR STATES

Party Managers Discuss Outcome In Various Districts.

GIVE STATEMENTS

Contrasting Views Are Taken By Reds and Whites In Talks.

PARTY STATEMENTS

"The whole of the United States, with the possible exception of ten southern states will go Republican this year,"—Will Hays, Republican national chairman.

"The election depends on Ohio, Indiana, West Virginia and Illinois. If we can carry these four states Governor Cox will be the President,"—George White, Democratic national chairman.

By FLOYD MACGREGOR.

New York, Sept. 23.—The campaign chiefs of the two old parties talked "brass tacks" today. In exclusive, thoroughly frank interviews they told the International News Service not what they hope for, but what they expect. Both were specific of states and figures.

Will Hays, chairman of the Republican national committee, saw the whole country, with the possible exception of ten southern states going Republican. He said the Republicans this year would break into the Democratic "solid south."

Kentucky, Hays predicted, would go Republican by 40,000, while North Carolina and Oklahoma and Tennessee were "Republican possibilities," Maryland, he asserted, would be Republican this year.

"Why do you claim Kentucky, Maryland and Missouri?" he was asked. "Because in Kentucky and Missouri the Republicans won two years ago in the state and we only lost Maryland by less than 300 votes."

"Why do you consider North Carolina and Oklahoma Republican possibilities?"

"Because the people in those states as elsewhere, are determined that a responsible political party cannot avoid administration and because, too, there as elsewhere they hold 'America first'."

George White, chairman of the Democratic national committee, on the other hand, claimed Oklahoma, Kentucky, North Carolina and Maryland would be Democratic as usual. As to Missouri he said:

"We don't term Missouri doubtful, but the Democratic majority there may be cut down."

Chairman White claimed 157 votes of the "solid south" while Hays conceded but 110.

Chairman White listed the following thirteen states as "doubtful": Ohio, Indiana, West Virginia, Illinois, Washington, Idaho, California, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, New York, New Jersey, Delaware and North Dakota.

MAY COURT WILL PROBE GOVERNMENT OF PACIFIC ISLAND

Charges Of Misgovernment In Samoa To Be Probed.

Washington, Sept. 23.—Investigation of the naval government of the Pacific Island of Samoa was ordered by the Navy Department.

It will be conducted by a Court of Inquiry, at the head of which will be Rear Admiral Charles F. Hughes.

Among other things the Court will investigate charges made by Lieutenant Commander C. H. Douchet against Commander Warren J. Terhune, who recently was relieved from duty as Governor of Samoa, and charges made by Commander Terhune against Lieutenant Commander Douchet. The latter recently was relieved from duty at Samoa and assigned to the Mare Island Navy Yard.

Captain Waldo Evans, who has been ordered to go to Samoa to be Governor of the Island will be President of the Court when it goes into these charges, while under Rear Admiral Hughes the Court will conduct a full investigation into the conduct of the Government in the islands and make a report to the Navy Department.

Passengers arriving at Honolulu from Samoa last month reported that natives of the island had stoned the home of Governor Terhune and that a petition signed by 200 leading natives asking for an investigation of the Governor's administration had been sent to President Wilson.

FORD THREATENS TO START TIRE BUSINESS

Canton, O., Sept. 23.—Henry Ford, of Detroit, who is in Canton today looking after steel products for his factory, stated in an interview that he would undertake to finance his own tire business if the tire producers advanced prices on him. The United States Alloy Steel Company of this city has contracts for supplying much steel used in the Ford factories.

Ford announced that he and his son Edsel were visiting a number of cities in the interest of his announcement of a reduction in the prices of his automobiles. He reaffirmed his announcement that price reductions would not be followed by a lowering of wages but that the lower costs of materials would more than cover the reductions in selling prices.

GOVERNOR COX UNINJURED AS TRAIN WRECKED IN ARIZONA WEDNESDAY

VIOLENCE BREAKS OUT IN ITALY RESULTING IN MANY FATALITIES

Industrial District Of Northern Italy Scene Of Rioting As Labor Soviet Refuses To Evacuate Seized Factories.

London, Sept. 23.—Rioting has broken out in the industrial district of northern Italy following the refusal of some of the labor soviet to evacuate seized factories, according to advices from Turin today. Italian railway guards were fired upon near Turin and one was killed and several others wounded.

Disorders have occurred at Brescia and Sandoma where the workers refused to give up industrial plants. Turin reports that the violence is spreading.

The workers' councils in 34 out of 51 Italian factories have adopted resolutions condemning the terms of the settlement between the iron and steel workers and the employers, said a Turin dispatch to the Daily Express. Leaders of the dissatisfied workmen said they would renew their fight.

The Exchange Telegraph correspondent at Genoa reports that anarchists are in control of the labor situation in that city. They are refusing to hand back the Otero shipyards to the owners and to evacuate the factories that were seized during the past fortnight.

MARTIAL LAW IN WEST VIRGINIA NOW IMMINENT

Fear Armed Clash In Mining Districts Of That State.

TROOPS ARE READY

Situation Admittedly Serious; Situation Is Tense.

Charleston, W. Va., Sept. 23.—Martial law is imminent in the Mingo county mining district of West Virginia, according to advices received at the state capital and the governor's office today. Reports reaching both the headquarters of the United Mine Workers of America and the governor's office indicate that the situation is serious and there is possibility of trouble which may develop into an armed clash.

The commander of the U. S. troops is closely watching the situation and, if necessary, it is understood, will declare martial law. He is said to have instructions from Washington giving him authority to act on his own judgment if a sudden outbreak occurs. So far there has been no outbreak. The federal commander is in close touch with Gov. John J. Cornwell.

STATE FISH AND GAME DEPARTMENT CONDUCTING PROBE

Investigations are being conducted by the state fish and game department of the charge that refuse from the Hagar O'Hard and Paper Company at Cedarville, has been permitted to again pollute the waters at Massie's Creek and the Little Miami River.

Karl Keller of Newton, a game protector under the state department conducted an investigation with Deputy Sheriff George A. Birch and found he says, that one of the reservoirs had been lowered about three feet, and that the refuse is in the streams. No dead fish had been found however.

Mr. Keller went to Columbus Thursday morning to confer with the department regarding the alleged pollution of the water.

The Hagar Company paid a fine of $500 last August 1, on a charge of polluting the streams, and killing "a fish." Fish and game officials say that every fish killed constitutes a separate offense.

Mr. Keller expected to place the matter before Chief A. C. Baxter of the fish and game department when he returned from a trip in Canada, Thursday morning.

WATKINS OFFERS TO WITHDRAW FROM RACE ON CONDITION

Washington, Sept. 23.—If either Senator Warren G. Harding or Governor James M. Cox definitely declares himself to be for prohibition and announces he will veto any bill to repeal national prohibition, Dr. Aaron Watkins, Ohio, prohibition candidate for president, will withdraw from the Presidential race.

Watkins made this statement in answer to Dr. P. A. Baker, General Superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, before the Fifteenth Annual Conference Against Alcoholism, adding that votes given to prohibition party candidates for Congress might defeat prohibition supporters running either the Democratic or Republican tickets.

"I will withdraw from the race," Dr. Watkins declared, "if either of the two major parties declares without equivocation for prohibition and announces he will veto any bill to repeal national prohibition."

American business will "stand like a rock against nullification of the prohibition enforcement act," the delegates were told by Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, formerly Chief Chemist of the Department of Agriculture.

"The greatest thing that has ever happened politically in this country," he predicted there never would be "any sort of change" in the enforcement statutes now in effect, because the entire economic pressure "would be exerted in opposition to it."

"The politician," Dr. Wiley said, "is in most cases glad that the saloon was no longer exerting its power over the voters." The liquor interests were still to be reckoned with, he added, but "they are not a potent power," as they must work in secret.

SEIZE IMPORTANT "RED" DOCUMENT

Chicago, Sept. 23.—One of the most important documents ever seized in the country drive against "reds" and extremists—a complete roster of names and addresses of more than 1,000 alleged "reds" hidden in every nook and corner of America—is in the possession of Chief of Police Garrity here today.

As many as listed in New York and other eastern cities the police believe that the evidence may prove significant in connection with the search for terrorists who have made bomb threats in eastern cities.

The document was seized when officers of the police department bomb alleged "red" in his home, Zaleskas is said to be a district organizer for the communist party.

ENGINEER SEVERELY HURT WHEN THROWN FROM CAB IN CRASH

THINK RAILS SPREAD

Dispel Rumors That Obstruction Was Placed On Track.

Enroute With Governor Cox, Deming, N. M., Sept. 23.—None the worse for his experience of yesterday when his special train was wrecked a mile north of Peoria, Ariz., throwing him a distance of 12 feet, Governor James M. Cox, was today speeding toward Albuquerque.

Rumor that the derailment which resulted in the destruction of one locomotive, a tender and a baggage car and the derailment and partial demolition of two other coaches had been caused by an obstruction on the rails were apparently dispelled by statements from railway employees who were on the train at the time of the accident.

Division Engineer Walker who was riding on the first of the two locomotives hauling the Cox special denied emphatically there was anything on the track. "In my opinion," he stated "the derailment was caused either by spreading rails or by some piece of mechanism on the first engine dropping on the ground. We were running a little better than 30 miles an hour. The first thing I noticed out of the ordinary was when the tender of the first engine began to jump and I knew it was off the rails. I jumped on the air and an instant later the second locomotive went crashing by and into the ditch."

Engineer Injured.

Engineer Charles Nichols of the second locomotive who suffered a broken leg and possibly internal injuries was thrown through his cab window and clear of the wreck. The injured man, though in great pain, was eager to talk to Governor Cox when the latter came rushing to the scene.

"I want you to know we did not get you into the ditch on purpose," said the injured man grasping the governor's hand.

"I know that perfectly well," said Cox. "I know you boys are all for me."

"You're right there, governor," said Nichols, "we're all for you."

"I didn't have time to jump," said Nichols. "The crash came too suddenly. I thought of jumping but before I could move something shot me through the air and I saw the engine coming over on top of me. How I managed to get clear of it I do not know."

Governor Cox was seated at the dining table in the private car Federal when the crash came. He was thrown a third of the length of the car and slid along the floor for some distance but was uninjured.

Immediately upon regaining his feet he ran to the front of the train in an effort to aid those caught in the car ahead. All trainmen present admitted the accident might easily have been a disaster. The oil filled tender of the second locomotive burst, and the ditch alongside the track was filled with petroleum which for a time threatened to engulf the overturned locomotive with its furnace blazing.

A movie photographer with the party lived up to the ethics of his profession by rushing to the scene with his camera and cranking frantically while passengers climbed out of the broken windows and trainmen were rescuing their injured comrades.

COLUMBUS GAS RATE MAY GO TO FIFTY CENTS THIS YEAR

Reduction in Consumption To Cause Higher Rate.

Columbus, O., Sept. 23.—It looks as though Columbus gas consumers will soon have to pay 50 cents. The present rate is 30 cents per 1,000 cubic feet.

The Ohio fuel supply company, furnishing gas to local distributing companies, receives 18 cents per 1,000 feet consumed in Columbus homes. At the same time, it receives from 45 to 60 cents it announces from industries outside the city limits.

Following a conference between officials of the supply company and the distributing companies, an announcement was made that Columbus consumers are expected to reduce their annual consumption to 96,000 from 157,000 cubic feet and that the domestic rate will have to be boosted to between 45 and 60 cents in as much as the distributing companies will pay the supply company a higher rate.

PHYSICIANS TO HOLD BANQUET IN DAYTON THURSDAY NIGHT

Dr. Walter B. Cannon, professor of physiology at Harvard University was the speaker at both sessions of the medical chautauqua being held in the Medical Building in Dayton this week, and which is being attended by Greene County physicians.

Dr. Cannon, who is author of "Bodily Changes in Pain, Hunger Fear and Rage," says that the saying that certain foods "make the mouth water" is true, and that they also effect the stomach causing it to secrete digestive fluid. Emotions of pleasure, promote digestion, he showed while in extreme cases of pain or fear or other disagreeable feelings the digestive operations sometimes stop entirely for a time.

Thursday night the physicians will banquet at the Miami Hotel. Dr. A. X. Crofton of Chicago, Dr. Louis Schwab of Cincinnati and Judge Roland Baggett of Dayton will be the speakers.

FOTBALL—Sport
A large list of football candidates has answered the call of Coach Nelson Talbott at the University of Dayton formerly St. Marys Institute.

Forty-five men tramped out on the field for the initial prospects, and with many of these veterans from last year's squad, the prediction of a winning team at the university is not too far fetched.

The eight letter men back from last year are, Captain Holscher, Greisner, Schmitter, Miller, Summers, Billett and Walsh. Suspenski and Amersbach are promising recruits from last year's high school eleven while Dwyer of the 1917-18 varsity and Paas with the 1918 eleven are back at the school. Hochwalt Hetzel and Matusoff are the players lost to the team this year.

DR. FESS ADDRESSES SPRINGFIELD CROWD

Congressman S. D. Fess of Yellow Springs and Bishop J. H. Jones of Wilberforce University were among speakers at the Emancipation Day celebration at the Clark County fair grounds, Springfield, Wednesday.

Congressman Fess declared in favor of the anti-lynching law now before the committee in congress and said he would do all in his power to seek establishment of the law. "And Harding is the man who will enforce it once it is put into effect," he said.

There were several hundred colored people who took part in the celebration.

RIVER GIVES UP LONG LOST RING

Yankton, S. D., Sept. 20.—Two years ago Otto Huber, young real estate dealer here, and his fiancée, Miss Ruby Parr, went boat riding on the James River. A diamond engagement ring which had cost Huber $2,000 was lost in the water.

He and friends searched for the gem constantly during the next two days but it was not found and he was called away to war. Recently he returned.

Last Sunday he resumed the hunt, using fine sand screen. After working about four hours he was rewarded by finding the ring. It has been returned to the young woman and a wedding is expected before the week's end.

Miss Dorothy Riddle who has been visiting her brother and sister-in-law, City Manager and Mrs. Kenyon Riddle of this city, left Wednesday for St. Paul, Minn., where she will make her future home. Mr. Riddle's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Riddle have moved from Abilene, Kansas, to St. Paul.

HAY FEVER, COLDS AND CATARRH

Before Hay Fever makes its appearance in your locality, do as the Scotch folk do—be prepared.

Order from your druggist a small inexpensive bottle of Haelanol, an antiseptic liquid that when breathed deep into the lungs, quickly heals, soothes and strengthens the delicate membrane of the nose, throat and bronchial tubes.

This is a Scotch physician's prescription that is gaining much favor in this country because it is such a thoroughly good destroyer of pernicious germs.

It's really an important discovery and worth a trial, and a little pamphlet that goes with it gives you a lot of good advice, says Sohn's drug store, who sells lots of both sizes—50 cents and $1.25. The Haelanol Company, Inc., Rochester, N. Y.

THE GREAT RUSH FOR "HIGHER" EDUCATION, MOST COMMENDABLE.

Despite the fact that from all over the country the cry is going up that the brain worker is being outstripped by the humblest of the hewers of wood and the drawers of water, so far as money compensation goes, there is not the slightest evidence in the school and college world that the great mass of Americans have been disturbed by this startling condition. On the contrary, the rush to get an education in the higher schools and in the colleges and universities is unprecedented.

It is plain from this very rush to be educated that our educational institutions are going to play a larger part than ever before in the history of the country through the training of a larger number of citizens than ever previously entered college halls. All this crowding to school means increased responsibility for the teaching forces of the higher educational institutions at a time when teaching is indeed a sacrificial pursuit.

It is not only the fact that after graduation one is ready to earn a living, but in this collegiate training there come also the power to think and a spiritual uplift which are better than all else. It is this phase of college life, coupled with the devotion of the teaching profession to the cause, a devotion to which America can never do too much honor, that gives a deeper meaning than ever before to the opening of the school year in this year of grace when so much of the world is being made over.

Since we have given universal suffrage, there seems more than ever the desire for universal education. Good Education is a better safeguard of Liberty than a standing army. The surest foundations of the State are laid in knowledge, not in ignorance. An intelligent class can scarce ever be as a class vicious. This of itself should impel a parent's earnest desire for the education of his children.

There never was any party, faction or sect in which the most ignorant were not the most violent, the most vicious. And when we remember the cost to the State to take care of the ignorant and vicious, how purely a matter of self-protection it is to urge upon all the importance of education.

We think the number of our youth going in this year for "higher" education is by far the greatest we have ever had. The state, the community and the parents are each to be congratulated.

THE TALE OF A DIAMOND AND A PROFITEERING GROCER BUTCHER.

Out of Davenport, Iowa, comes a piteous tale. A profiteering grocer and butcher, embodying in one person two business potentialities with millionairish possibilities, is the hero. This man, in the characteristic opulence of his class ever since the war began to boost prices, was wearing one of his presumably many $600 diamond rings, the while he attended to the needs of his flock of 150 chickens. With the carelessness that comes of long familiarity with such baubles, he knocked the diamond loose from its setting, and while he was probably speculating as to whether he should pick up such a trifle, one of the chickens swallowed it and disappeared among its fellows.

Then the butcher wanted his diamond, but couldn't find the particular fowl which had made way with it. There was nothing to do but slay the chickens until the right one was found. In the fiftieth chicken the diamond was located.

The tale points many interesting things. That profiteering grocer-butcher in Iowa, or any place else, wear diamonds in the pursuit of their occupations will surprise no one who is familiar with the present-day prices of their wares, for to judge by this standard, the diamond might well be the insignia of their trade.

But why put the unconscionable charge of profiteering on the poor grocer and butcher alone? Are we not all in the same boat? Not here, of course, like the milk sickness—but over in the next county.

GREAT IS THE AUTOMOBILE.

By CHARLES CLIFTON.

President National Automobile Chamber of Commerce.
The greatest single new productive force in the development of the United States in the past twenty years has been the automobile.

Scarcely two decades ago highways transportation the world over was no faster, hardly more efficient, than the caravans which pushed their way across the desert to Babylon 2000 years before. The introduction of the passenger car has wrought a revolution in travel almost over night, and the changes which are today being brought about through the ever broadening use of the motor vehicle have already geared a world to a new efficiency of commerce, a new standard of life, a new philosophy of thought.

As the telephone brought communities into closer contact mentally, so the automobile is serving to bind communities together physically. As the railroad made possible long-distance communication, so the automobile has eliminated the distance between the dweller in the city and in the country.

Time the ever-vital factor, has met its master. Mileage has succumbed and modern industry finds the motor vehicle an indispensable tool in its complex equipment. Even our merchant marine finds new ladings brought to its docks in foreign fields through the steady development of virgin industries abroad by this new unit of transportation.

Nor does the motor vehicle's use alone reflect its influence on the world's trade. As the passenger car has come into more general use as city after city, state after state show a uniform increase in the number of passenger cars upon their highways, a new market of boundless future has been opened up to the industries of the world.

In fact, the passenger car is a new unit of transportation which has acquired a definite, permanent place not only in America, but the world over. What the railroad did for the mass, it has done for the individual and the family. The passenger car points the way to the development of the vast potential resources of the world. It spells increased efficiency, higher standards of living, lowered costs, closer contact between men and nations.

Definition of a profiteering landlord—one who has "rent" your pocket-book.

Probably 99 per cent of the thousands who gathered in New York Tuesday to see the U. S. Custom House blown up, went away disappointed.

Women to houseclean politics" reads a headline. Well if they cause as much disturbance doing it as they do semi-annually in their homes, we ought to have a nice, peaceful, domestic, political fireside.

One idea of the Millennium is the arrival of the day when palm beach clothes and straw hats are not laid to rest September 15.

Strange isn't it how easy it is to make a story spicy by merely injecting a phrase like "pink silk lingerie."

There are two types of men, one who wear their hats down next to the ears and one who wear them like a rubber band around the top.

They say back in B.M. Shakespeare's time much was left to the imagination but modern times have reversed this form, and striking proof may be had in the character of women's apparel.

About the only difference between a Democrat and a Republican is, when one is, the other isn't.

SOLDIER BONUS IS PRINCIPAL THEME OF A. L. ADDRESS

The proposed soldier bonus was the principal theme of the address of Paul Dye, of Urbana, Democratic candidate for Congress, delivered before the crowd that attended the jam-bourne and dance given by Wilbur H. Thomas Post, American Legion, at the Legion Hall, Jamestown, Wednesday evening.

Mr. Dye, who is himself an American Legion member, and one of the youngest candidates for office in this section, was introduced by Father Wm. P. O'Connor, Commander of Thomas Post. He explained his platform for the bonus system. He declared that he would have a chance to answer Congressman S. D. Fess, candidate for re-election in Mechanicsburg this week, when he speaks there this day following the address scheduled for Dr. Fess.

An unusually large crowd attended the American Legion affair. Two orchestras provided music for the dancers, and while one was interpreting the latest jazz offerings, a string orchestra in another room played old fashioned music for the round and square dances of years ago, which were enjoyed by the older people present.

A lamb roast featured the evening's entertainment and mutton was served with rolls, pickles and coffee. The affair was one of the most successful of the number of interesting social affairs given by the Jamestown Legion Post.

Plans are being made for the fifty first reunion of the Seventy-fourth O. V. I. Association, which is to be held at the G. A. R. post hall in Xenia, Tuesday, Sept. 28. The program for the celebration has not been announced.

Miss Ruth Maley, who is instructor in music in the Sidney schools, has been spending a few days with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Maley of the Wilmington pike.

PLANE CARRIES MILADY TO LINKS

Miss Retta Pam boarding the plane.

The latest novel idea of society is to go golfing by seaplane. Miss Retta Pam of New York, started the fad when she flew from the foot of Sixty-ninth-st. on the North river to the Sleepy Hollow Country club to play. The plane alighted in the Hudson near Tarrytown and the club. Capt. Tibbs of the Tibbs Aero Service, piloted the plane.

CAREFUL DRIVER.

I drive my car with jealous care, all laws and statutes minding, and only pause anon to swear when balky valves need grinding. I drive upon old fashioned lines, as though a speed cop feared; I honk my horn when danger signs before me are appearing. I put my hand out when I'd turn, so those behind may know it, and doubtless they remark, "Gee-dern! But he's the cautious poet!" Twelve miles an hour is what I hit, when I go forth to tavel; my wheels don't fill the air with grit, or throw up chunks of gravel. A man so careful, you would say, must dodge all kinds of danger; but one is crippled every day, and I'm that pilgrim stranger. Day after day they bring me home, home to my weeping nieces, with compound fractures in my dome, and organs shot to pieces. The speed fiends go their crazy ways unhut, and still go faster; the reckless drivers spend their days unscratched, nor know disaster. But I, who follow all the rules, am marked for daily slaughter, and when my present politice cools, they'll put on one that's hotter.

ing to vote against the league while many Republicans will vote for it.

"Positively Republican," was Mr. Hays' characterization of Massachusetts.

Mr. White indicated that the balance of the New England states—Connecticut, Rhode Island, Vermont and Maine—would go Republican, while he admitted there was no hope of the Democrats taking Pennsylvania.

"New Jersey is doubtful," Mr. White said.

"New Jersey is positively Republican," averred Mr. Hays.

The Democratic chairman said Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Oregon and Wyoming might be regarded as Republican states.

"In North Dakota," Mr. White added, "the non partisan organization will poll heaviest and no one knows how they will vote nationally although adherents of the league there may give us victory."

"Positively Republican" was Chairman Hays' annotation on the name of North Dakota.

Chairman White said the "solid south"—Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Louisiana, Kentucky, Tennessee, Mississippi, Alabama, Florida, Georgia, South and North Carolina, Virginia and Maryland—with 157 of the total of 531 electoral votes will be Democratic as usual.

Of these states, Chairman Hays has conceded Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Florida, Georgia, South Carolina and Virginia to the Democrats.

The Republican chairman characterized as "uncertain" Oklahoma, Tennessee and North Carolina.

He claimed for the Republicans, Kentucky and Maryland.

Chairman Hays claimed all of these states as positively Republican.

Thus 189 electoral votes which the Democratic campaign chief considers doubtful are claimed outright by his Republican opponent.

While not exactly conceding them to the Republicans, Chairman White indicated that the Democratic chance were not good in these states:

Kansas, Nebraska, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Oregon, Wyoming, South Dakota, Connecticut, Maine, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island and Vermont. These states have a total of 144 electoral votes.

Chairman Hays was emphatic in asserting that New York will be Republican.

Chairman White said the fight would be very close in that state.

The Democratic chief declared that Governor Cox's record and local issues had split the Republicans in West Virginia, Illinois and Indiana, and that the split would swing those states, possibly, in addition to Ohio, for the Democrat.

The Republican pilot retorted that Ohio was positively going Republican and that the local issues in the adjacent states would not affect the national issue in the least.

The Democratic national chairman said:

"Primarily the doubtful states in the presidential election this year are Ohio, Indiana and West Virginia while Illinois within the past two weeks because of the Republican split there, has placed itself in the doubtful list.

"If we can carry these four states, I have no hesitancy in saying that Governor Cox will be elected president."

The Republican national chairman said:

"As to Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, the local issues in those states among Republicans are not serious and will not even seriously affect the state elections and they certainly will not influence the national issue at all."

Chairman Hays listed all the four states called "doubtful" by Chairman White under those that were "certain" for the Republicans.

Chairman White said the West was "keenly for the league of nations," while the east was apathetic.

"Washington and Idaho are doubtful states both being very strong for the league of nations," said the Democratic chief.

Chairman Hays counted both Washington and Idaho in his "positively Republican" list.

"We propose to make an active fight to win California," said Chairman White. "The same forces that swung that state for Wilson in 1916 are operating now. There is dissatisfied faction with the Chicago Republican convention" presidential choice and Governor Cox has had an unprecedented reception there."

Chairman Hays included California in his "positively Republican" list.

TO MAKE SURVEY OF ALL CRIPPLED CHILDREN IN COUNTY

A survey of crippled children of Greene County is now occupying much of the attention of Mrs. Elmer Reynolds who is now entirely directing the work of the Social Service League here.

The survey is being conducted for Dr. R. H. Grube, county health officer, who is endeavoring to learn the number of crippled children for information bearing on the establishment of a new home for children so afflicted in this state.

With winter approaching, the relief work of the League is growing closer, and preparations are being made to take care of that work this year. Through the generosity of different churches and organizations much sewing is being done for the League, the League furnishing material and the women of the different societies making it into clothes for the needy. The Daughters of the Rebekahs conducted an all day sewing party Wednesday for the League.

SUPPRESSION OF IRELAND DISCUSSED BY WRITER WHO VISITS SCENE OF TROUBLE

London, Sept. 20.—What constitutes being suppressed in Ireland? I must admit I left the country without finding out.

The Industrial Commission for the investigation of Irish industries and resources, appointed by the Minister of Trade and Commerce of the Irish Republic, was suppressed. Everyone told me so. Everyone told me, also, that if I would go to a certain office in a well-known office building on a main street in Dublin, I would find someone who would tell me more about the commission.

Of course I went. I found a spacious office. The walls were hung with maps of Ireland: charts showing coal deposits, graphs describing the course of the milk industry; pictures of harbors and fisheries. At a large desk overflowing with letters and reports sat an urbane gentleman deep in conversation with two callers, evidently bent on serious business.

They left in few minutes, and he greeted me courteously.

"This is the office of the Industrial Commission of the Irish Republic, is that what you want," he replied, his eyes twinkling.

"But I thought the commission was suppressed!" I exclaimed.

He roared with laughter at my naivete. "Of course it is—of course!" he said.

"But you are carrying on!"

"Of course we are—of course!" he said.

COMMISSION IS "SUPPRESSED."

Then he gave me his definition of "being suppressed." "We aren't in the directory, and we don't have a telephone."

"That must be very inconvenient," I commiserated.

"Not at all," was the cheerful reply. "We use our neighbor's telephone, and everyone knows where we are."

And then for an hour he described to me the work of the commission. "When the Republic was set up," he explained, "we all realized that we had to do more than merely defend ourselves. We had to do constructive work. Sinn Fein had elected a government, and this government straightaway appointed a minister. The Minister of trade, who is very clever young economist—a Protestant, by the way—called together business men, manufacturers, farmers, professors—the most able men he could find—and appointed them an Industrial Commission. He did not even ask them whether they were Republicans. He didn't subject them to any rules. He told them to find out what was the matter with Irish industry: study the dairy business, the fisheries, the unused resources, and report to the Republic, with recommendations.

"Now, of course, since from the English point of view, the Republic is illegal, we are illegal, and when we went down into the West of Ireland to hold open sittings on the question of the milk supply we were refused public buildings; soldiers attended our hearings and finally we were declared an illegal assembly. So we took our name out of the telephone book."

"SEDITIONOUS" DOCUMENT.

"Let me present you with a seditious document," he said. "It is our first report—on the condition of the dairy industry in Ireland."

It was an inoffensive looking document, bound tolerantly enough in an orange cover, and devoted to a technical discussion of cow-tests, butter analyses, the organization of creameries, etc. Only the introduction branded it. It was addressed to Arthur Griffith, Acting President of the Irish Republic, and began, in accordance with your instructions:—

And then the Irishman plunged into an enthusiastic discussion of Irish resources. "They have said there is no coal in Ireland. There are at least a hundred million tons in one area alone. Ireland has six billion tons of peat, with coal equivalent of three billion tons. Ireland has a longer coast than England, and opportunities for developing the finest fisheries in the world. Enterprise to-day depends on the creation of joint-stock companies, and these depend on the national circulation of capital and then on a free market and quotation for their stock. None of these is yet possible in Ireland. There is no money market in Ireland; the circulation of capital is centered in London—but wait—"

Coming out I encountered the neighbor with the "convenient" telephone. "Who is that gentleman?" I asked, nodding toward the door.

"That," he answered, "is one of the assistant secretaries. A special expert on coal."

The next morning I read in a conservative London paper, that the Republican Government was "contemplating" activity in Ireland.

THAT WAS IRISH WIT

One thing that is not suppressed in Ireland is the unquenchable spirit of laughter among the people. Even in these dark times an Irishman never quite takes himself or the situation seriously. Another member of this same commission—the secretary, indeed, Mr. Darrell Feggis—very narrowly escaped hanging when he went with this commission to the west of Ireland to hold an open hearing on some industrial question. He was arrested by an officer, court-martialed on the spot and sentenced to be hanged. The officer even went so far as to send out for "twenty feet of rope," and the Irishman saved himself only by a verbal filibuster worthy of Robert M. LaFollette. Had this Protestant Irishman, who has been disinherited of a fortune because of his Sinn Fein sympathies, been hanged the country would have been ablaze with indignation. As it is, his satirical description of the officer "awash with liquor," his inimitable mimicry of the court martial, his picture of himself, eyeing the rope and spinning out a long discourse upon the absolute necessity of testing all cows, while a companion looked frantically for a less drunken officer with whom to reason—the whole story is the laughter of Ireland.

Nor does Ireland seem particularly concerned with the fate of the officer. He was given a less important post as a consequence of his act, but whether the rebuke was because of attempted murder, or whether it was because he failed, neither Feggis nor Ireland appears to know.

CITY OF PIQUA NOW FACES BANKRUPTCY UNLESS RELIEF GIVEN

Piqua citizens must vote yet on a three mill special levy at the November election, or the city will face bankruptcy, says a report from that city.

This statement, coupled with the fact that unless financial relief can be extended to the city, it must abandon the service department and bally cripple its safety department is arousing sentiment in favor of the extra levy in Piqua.

Little relief was in sight at a meeting of Piqua city officials with the budget commission recently. The city asked for $142,000 to meet the general expenses and the commission allotted $66,000 for that purpose. Last year the city government cost $70,000 and deficits now exist in a number of departments.

In the face of less money for operating expenses, the city of Piqua is also facing increased costs of material, a necessary salary increase to employees, a compulsory reorganization of the fire department to comply with the two platoon system law and a street paving program.

Backers of the three-mill levy are pointing out that few cities will have less than 20 mill rate on taxation this year, stating that Troy will have 24 mills, Tippicanoe City 22 mills and other cities in the neighborhood much more than that.

The Piqua board of education is also in financial straits, receiving less money for operating expenses than it needs. The school levy was 6.57 mills.

MAKES FIRST VISIT TO XENIA IN NEARLY HALF A CENTURY

William T. Nicolls of Missouri, is making his first visit to Xenia, in 45 years, and is a guest of D. M. Stewart of West Third street.

Mr. Nicolls who is a veteran of the Civil War, went to Indianapolis, for the National encampment of the G. A. R. and then came on to Xenia for a visit at his old home. He is a brother-in-law of the late Daniel McMillen, one time prominent and wealthy Xenian, who gained fame as the man who held the first sale of pure bred Short Horn cattle, in the United States.

Mr. Nicolls said that his brother, the Rev. J. Nicolls was for 50 years pastor of the Second United Presbyterian church in St. Louis. He is optimistic over the outlook for the Republican party in Missouri, and says that Judge Sheldon Spencer has been nominated for his second term as senator by the Republicans and is going to be elected.

Every Tire Is Signed

Two men sign every Miller Tire—the maker and the inspector. Both are penalized if a tire comes back.

Under this method, defects have become extremely rare. Not a tire came back for adjustment to many Miller dealers last year.

Over 1,000 tires yearly are worn out in Miller factory tests.

All the best rival tires are constantly compared with the Miller, with these results:

Millers now excel all rivals, both in average and in uniform mileage.

Miller treads outwear rival treads by 25 per cent on the average.

Miller Cords average 15,000 miles—Miller Fabrics from 8,000 to 9,000 miles—in rear-wheel tests under extreme conditions.

You will gain a new idea of modern tires when you test a new-type Miller. Get one now and watch it. The super-service of the Miller Tire is now everywhere discussed.

FIRE PREVENTION DAY SCHEDULED FOR OCTOBER 9 IN OHIO

The fact that Saturday, October 9, is fire prevention day throughout the state of Ohio, has caused to be issued from the state fire marshal's office, requests to priests and ministers to urge observance of the day.

The clergymen are asked to urge the purposes of the day upon their congregation at the services on Sunday, October 11. State Fire Marshal Leonard says "over 15,000 persons are burned to death in the United States every year, 85 per cent of whom could have been saved as useful citizens, but for acts of carelessness" and "over 85 per cent of the annual fire waste of $450,000,000 (including the upkeep of fire departments, etc.) in this country is unnecessary."

The toll of fire deaths in Ohio last year was 271, according to Mr. Leonard, ninety-five per cent of which were preventable.

OPEN SEASON ON DOVES SAYS BAXTER

Although the Ohio state game laws provide no open season on dove this year, shooting of these birds is permissible under a federal law which provides an open season according to a ruling of A. C. Baxter, chief of the Fish and Game division of Ohio.

The Ohio state game laws provide no open season for deer, quail, dove, swans, wood duck, elder ducks, bitterns, sandhill and whooping cranes, grebes, gulls, herons, jaegers, loons, murres, petrels, terns and all shore birds, excepting woodcock, Wilson snipe or jacksnipe, black-bellied and golden plovers and yellow legs. Local hunters are interested mostly in the dove hunting which is permissible under the federal law.

In answer to a query about which law to obey Mr. Baxter said: "Replying to your letter, permit me to advise that the federal regulations for an open season on doves in Ohio from September until December 15. While the state law prohibits the killing of the bird, our department is of the opinion that the federal law holds precedence."

"Therefore under this ruling, we are permitting dove shooting in Ohio."

BEAUTY CHATS

MORE HINTS TO HOUSEWIVES

The more I learn of the problem of the housewife who wants to keep herself young and good looking, the more I am convinced of one fact, and that is, it is not so important to tell the housewife what she should do as what she should avoid doing. To be specific:

One of the great problems of the woman who does her own work is this—her hair gets full of dust from her work and the pores of her skin which are opened when she grows hot from working hard, clog up with dust and soot. The result is dry hair and a muddy, coarse-grained complexion. "Now how," writes the housewife, "can I cure these troubles?"

The simplest way, my dear lady, is to avoid them. You will find, as you go along in life, that prevention is the simplest cure for any problem. In this particular case I should say that one way out of your difficulty is to keep your hair covered with a lawn or muslin cap all the time you work. I do not mean a bouffant cap. These are appropriate only in the dressing room and are not for the woman who is doing work. Put a cap over your head even when you are cooking for the steam from the stove contains a surprising amount of grease and no dainty woman wants to carry in her hair the stale odors of cooking.

For the rest of your work use carpet sweepers and mops whenever practical instead of brooms. Raise no more dust than is absolutely necessary. Use oilsoaked cheese cloth for dusting and so prevent as much of the flying dirt as possible. This will keep your hair and skin from suffering too much as the result of housework.

Troubled—You are about ten pounds overweight. You can attain an all-around development through special exercises, which you could take at any gymnasium. The Y. W. C. A. usually has a good course to offer young women, also swimming courses. In your case, the general course will be the proper thing, as it will develop the upper part of the body and also reduce the excess weight on the hips, as exercise consumes the fat while it strengthens the muscles. You can hasten it also by taking a good tonic and eating regularly of a simple and nutritious diet.

Jes Jim.—Do not use cocoa butter on the face as it may cause the hair to grow; you may use it on any other part of the body with safety. It is very nourishing but it is such a heavy oil that it is apt to remain in the pores for some time before being entirely absorbed, and in the case of the face or the exposed parts of the neck dirt will collect in the pores and act as a fertilizer, when combined with a heavy oil, causing hair to grow—if there is that tendency. If you would care for a good nourishing cream and will send an addressed, stamped envelope, I will be pleased to send you a formula. The article you mention is a patented prescription and I do not know anything about its quality. I am pleased to hear of your success with the vaseline treatment for the lashes. You will find them very much with the clipping but do not take very much of the ends of the hairs and have some one do it who has a steady hand.

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

Some extraordinary values. We have just received the newest styles in hats. They are specially priced for Friday and Saturday. Be sure and see them before purchasing.

Stylish Stout Apparel that Promises Artistic Dress

You need only see these special displays of fashionable apparel to fully appreciate that fashion has not been indifferent to the particular requirements of full-formed women. These modes are not mere adaptations of more slender garments but are designed expressly for women of larger build. They possess characteristics which give them an air of appropriate correctness and give the wearer the advantage of a slenderized silhouette.

Suits

Suitable for almost any informal occasion of an Autumn or Winter day are the Suits, specially priced during this month. There are fur-trimmed modes, embroidered modes, Suits cleverly braided and just dozens of types simple in line and unadorned. Silvertone, Tinseltone, Tricotine, Velour, Poplins, Cheviots and Serges.

$45.00, $47.50, $50.00

UPWARDS

Autumn Coats Have a Luxurious Air

To be sure there are many utility coats which for practical purposes have avoided extensive trimmings and adornment. If one were to mention the predominating color it would be brown—yet it comes in so many variations! Such fabrics as Bolivia, Velour, Peeble's Cheviot indicate that even the materials have a fashion interest wrapped up in their names.

$35.00 to $119.50

There's Nothing Commonplace About These Frocks

Indeed, no! As artistically embroidered as they are, they can never be referred to as anything but ultra chic and individual. Chemise styles vie with Frocks fashioned along coat-like lines. Some of these modes boast tunics, peplums or dozens of buttons. Poriet Twill, Serge and Tricotine.

$37.50 to $79.50

BASEBALL SCANDAL TO COME TO BOILING POINT ON THURSDAY

Chicago, Sept. 23.—Organized baseball's newest scandal, which simmered and bubbled at the first session of the grand jury investigation yesterday is expected to come to a boil today when J. C. "Rube" Benton, pitcher of the New York Giants appears to testify. The possibility of a number being scalded is admitted by those conversant with the situation.

Benton is expected to answer the charges made by Charles I. "Buck" Herzog, second baseman of the Chicago Cubs that the Giants' pitcher won $3,800 by betting on Cincinnati in the world's series of 1919 after he had received a telegraphical "tip" from Hal Chase, former Giants' first baseman that it had been "fixed" for the Reds to win. Benton is expected also to back up his charges that he was offered $800 by Herzog to "throw" a game to the Cubs in September of last year.

Affidavits are in Herzog's possession and have been made public that Benton "scraped together all the money he could get" and "wagered" on Cincinnati in the last world's series. The affidavits were made by Arthur Wilson, catcher and N. D. "Tony" Boeckel, third baseman of the Boston Braves.

Herzog declared he had obtained the depositions from Wilson and Boeckel after Benton had charged him with offering the pitcher a bribe to "throw" a game to the Cubs. "Buck" declared he went to the office of President John Heydler of the national league when he heard of Benton's charges and demanded an investigation. Benton was called in, Herzog declared, and reiterated his charge in the presence of President Heydler. After investigation Heydler gave Herzog a letter the player alleges, in which the head of the league expressed his belief that Herzog never had been involved in baseball gambling. The letter Herzog says, is in his possession.

Herzog's charges against Benton and Benton's charges against Herzog are only one angle of the investigation the grand jury has undertaken. Assistant State's Attorney Harvey Replogle conducting the investigation has made the public declaration, "that the last world's series was not on the square" and that "from five to seven players on the White Sox team are involved."

Replogle's statement was believed to have been inspired by testimony given before the grand jury by Chas. A. Comisky, president of the White Sox, Ban Johnson, president of the American league and other witnesses who appeared yesterday.

A number of well known baseball men, players, managers and magnates are yet to appear before the grand jury.

ORGANIZE WOMEN'S REPUBLICAN CLUB IN SPRING VALLEY

A Women's Republican Club for Spring Valley township, to be a branch of the Greene County Women's Republican Club, was formed at an enthusiastic meeting which was held Tuesday night in Spring Valley.

Mrs. A. E. Faulkner of Xenia, president of the Greene county club, presided, and an address was made by Miss Anna McCullough of Dayton, who is working under the state Republican executive committee.

Eighty-nine women attended the meeting. Mrs. George Wood, who has taken an active interest in the organization of the Republican women, was elected chairman of the club, and the other officers are: First Vice Chairman, Mrs. F. M. Hiatt; Second Vice Chairman, Mrs. Joseph Leaming; Secretary, Miss Effie Conley and Treasurer, Miss Hannah Harper.

Arrangements are being made to form a school of instruction for the women voters in Spring Valley, and other districts where the clubs are formed.

It is expected to organize women in every township in the county. An organization meeting for Jefferson township, will be held in the auditorium of the centralized school Thursday night. The meeting which was to have been held in Yellow Springs Wednesday night, was postponed for one week, and will be held next Wednesday night.

STATE DEPUTY WARDEN PAYS STRIKING TRIBUTE TO NERV-WORTH

Frank H. Dinsmore, Former Ohio State Deputy Warden, Gave This Weighty Statement Recommending Nerv-Worth Some Time Ago.

"While in Columbus some time ago, I tried a sample dose of Nerv-Worth, and I then concluded I'd try a bottle when I got home," said Mr. Dinsmore, who lives in Coschocton, Ohio. "I was tired out and my system was run down, and I thought a tonic like Nerv-Worth would do me good, and I found it brought the answer. I am highly pleased with the results, and cheerfully recommend Nerv-Worth

LOCAL DRUGGIST TO ENTER BIRDS IN RACE TO ST. LOUIS HOME

Local interest has been aroused in the Rexall Pigeon Derby to be flown at St. Louis September 2, and in which a pair of homing pigeons, to be released by Sayre and Hemphill of this city will participate. In all 5,000 homing pigeons are to take part in this race, each having been bred hatched and trained in the Rexall Pigeon Lofts, St. Louis, the largest in the world.

These lofts were built especially for the birds that are to compete in this race. More than 500 homing pigeons of the very best strains obtainable were purchased and established in the lofts as breeders. From this nucleus the younger birds have been bred until today, the loft boasts more live pigeons than any other in the world.

The race will be confined to Rexall all druggists doing business within a five hundred mile radius of St. Louis. Each of these druggists will enter a pair of pigeons in the race, the birds being shipped to him from the St. Louis lofts. The birds will be released for the speedy flight to St. Louis at a specified hour, handicaps as to distance having been carefully worked out and the first bird to "trap in" at the St. Louis lofts will receive the golden prize.

In each town the mayor either in person or through authority delegated to some pretty girl, will speed the pigeons on their way with a written message beneath their wings for the Governor of Missouri who will greet the little racers upon their arrival.

The occasion of this race is for the amusement and entertainment of the 8,000 or more Rexall druggists of the United States who assemble in St. Louis on Sept. 25 for their annual convention, made especially interesting this year.

Inauguration of the new $4,000,000 factory the United Drug Company has just completed in St. Louis for the manufacture of Rexall products. Pigeon fanciers, the world over, are focusing attention upon this race and the Pigeon Section of the Signal Corps, U. S. Army, will officially observe the race and keep close check on the time made by the Rexall Pigeons. Frank P. Lucke, president of the International Federation of American Homing Pigeon Fanciers will be one of the judges of the race and he is keeping close watch of every step of progress made in its preparation.

DIES IN DEATH VALLEY.

Los Angeles, Sept. 23.—Patrick H. Pornsey, died of third in Death Valley last week, though water was only half a mile from the spot where his body was found, according to word brought here today. It was said Pornsey went for a walk last Thursday and lost his way apparently. His body was found Sunday.

NEW SELF SERVE GROCERY TO HAVE FREE BASKET AND PARCEL CHECKING DEPARTMENT

Of interest especially to farmers and others coming to Xenia or Xenia people who are up town for an afternoon and do not care to be bored by packages and baskets, will be a basket checking department in connection with the Self Serve Grocery soon to be opened by G. J. Smith & Son, Space in front of the store has been set aside as a depository for baskets and parcels and articles will be checked and taken care of free to everyone.

A great amount of risk is taken in leaving articles in machines and other vehicles so that this free checking is a service to be appreciated. Along with this service will be a space fitted out with comfortable seats for ladies who wish to wait or have an appointment to meet another party Mr. Smith & Son are due a great deal of commendation for these features for surely these services are ones to be appreciated not only to the tired shopper, but others who will be able to leave parcels and baskets without fear of losing same. HOW ONE WOMAN WAS HELPED for run down people." The above is but one of many statements from people who hold high public offices. Such men do not endorse anything that does not have merit, and for that reason their statements offer the most convincing of proof. If you are in a run down or nervous condition, or suffer from stomach troubles, give Nerv-Worth a trial, and if it does not help you, your money will be refunded. You will finally come to Nerv-Worth for satisfactory results, so why not start now? Be sure to get the genuine in the large round bottle. Price $1.25 plus tax. Sold by Sayre & Hemphill and all leading druggists everywhere.

Althea Walker, New River, Pa., writes: "I have been troubled with weak kidneys for two years. I took Foley Kidney Pills and they helped me fine. I rest fine all night and now have no trouble with my kidneys." When the kidneys do not properly do their work acids and poisons left in the system cause weak and lame back, dizziness, puffiness under eyes, swollen ankles and joints, aches, pains, soreness and rheumatic pains. Foley Kidney Pills have given relief to thousands of men and women. Sayre & Hemphill.

FORMER RESIDENT OF COUNTY IS DEAD

George Leigh Hyslop, a former Greene courtain and son of the late Robert and Martha Bogle Hyslop, died last Saturday at his home at Deshler, Ohio, of complications, following an operation for appendicitis.

Mr. Hyslop was taken ill while he and his wife were on a visit to their son George R. Hyslop, who is professor in the agricultural college of the University of Oregon. He passed safely through an operation for appendicitis, but after his return home again became ill.

Mr. Hyslop is survived by his wife, who was before marriage Miss Julia Ashe, his son, two brothers and a sister. W. W. Hyslop of near Springfield, Frank Hyslop of Philadelphia, and Miss Henrietta Hyslop of New York. Dr. James Hyslop of New York, who was head of the American Society for Psychical Research, and who died last June, was a brother of the decedent. Mrs. E. M. Carruthers of this city was an aunt of Mr. Hyslop, and he had many other relatives in this vicinity.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at the late home, and burial took place at Deshler. Mr. Hyslop's nephew the Rev. Ernest McClellan of Belle Center conducted the service assisted by a local minister. The pallbearers were his son and five nephews: Roy Ralph and Earl McClellan of Greene county; Earl Hyslop and Homer Bowers of Springfield.

ROSS TOWNSHIP

The Hon. Forrest Black, of Tiffin, Ohio, will be the principal speaker at the organization of a Harding and Coolidge Club which will be effected in the assembly room at the Court House Friday evening at 8 o'clock, according to the announcement of L. T. Marshall.

Voters of Xenia and vicinity are urged to be present, says Mr. Marshall. A permanent personnel of officers will be selected it is thought.

HARDING REGARDS IRELAND TROUBLE AS BRUTAL ISSUE

London, Sept. 23.—Senator Warren G. Harding, Republican presidential nominee in the United States regards Ireland as a purely British domestic problem, according to a cabled interview printed by the Morning Post today. The correspondent quoted Senator Harding as saying:

"It is not in the province of either the United States or the league of nations to interfere in the Irish question."

ALLIES GUARD AZOV SEA.

Constantinople, Sept. 23.—The allied fleets in the Black sea including U. S. destroyers are believed to be capable of protecting merchantmen from the Bolshevik raiders now controlling the Sea of Azov. At Nikolaiev the Bolsheviks are hurriedly fitting out the cruiser General Alexieff and assembling two submarines brought from Petrograd.

GENERAL DELIVERY

The Famous Golmar Test Example No. 3 Golmar on Hot Waffles.

PUT a pat of Golmar and a pat of fresh creamery butter side by side. Butter part of a hot waffle with Golmar, and part with the creamery butter. Take a bite from one part, then a bite from the other. We challenge you to tell which is Golmar. Golmar is the equal of and is equalled only by fresh creamery butter.

The same coloring matter used in creamery butter is supplied with Golmar so you can color it at home and save the tax of 10 cents per pound which the Government would collect if Golmar were colored by the makers.

GOLMAR

Made especially for table use

Here's a present that's worth while — a full pound of Golmar

YOU can have absolutely free of cost a pound of this wonderful butter-spread, the finest science and skill have produced, the equal in every way of the best creamery butter.

Just save the cartons on the first five pounds of Golmar that you use and take them to your dealer. He will give you a full pound of Golmar for them—and charge it to our account. The only condition is that you must turn in the five cartons before October 15. We want to show our appreciation of those who become the first regular users of Golmar. And there is no more worth-while gift than a pound of Golmar.

It is the equal in every way of the finest creamery butter. The taste is the same; so is the spreading quality. It is just as rich, and sweet, and delicious.

Nothing could be purer, for Golmar is churned from the clean, pure white meat of selected coconuts—churned in a spotless factory—with the rich whole pasteurized milk from a selected dairy.

Only pure, fresh creamery butter is like Golmar. You will be astonished to find that you cannot tell them apart. And Golmar costs much less.

Start using Golmar today.
And let us give you an extra pound for your first five cartons. Your money back if you don't like Golmar.

FIRE PREVENTION DAY SCHEDULED FOR OCTOBER 9 IN OHIO

The fact that Saturday, October 9, is fire prevention day throughout the state of Ohio, has caused to be issued from the state fire marshal's office, requests to priests and ministers to urge observance of the day.

The clergymen are asked to urge the purposes of the day upon their congregation at the services on Sunday, October 11. State Fire Marshal Leonard says "over 15,000 persons are burned to death in the United States every year. 95 per cent of whom could have been saved as useful citizens, but for acts of carelessness" and "over 85 per cent of the annual fire waste of $450,000,000 (including the upkeep of fire departments, etc.) in this country is unnecessary."

The toll of fire deaths in Ohio last year was 271, according to Mr. Leonard, ninety-five per cent of which were preventable.

OPEN SEASON ON DOVES SAYS BAXTER

Although the Ohio state game laws provide no open season on dove this year, shooting of these birds is permissible under a federal law which provides an open season according to a ruling of A. C. Baxter, chief of the Fish and Game division of Ohio.

The Ohio state game laws provide no open season for deer, quail, dove, swan, wood duck, elder ducks, bitterns, sandhill and whooping cranes, grebes, gulls, herons, jaegers, loons, murrets, petrels, terns and all shore birds, excepting woodcock, Wilson snipe or jacksnipe, black-bellied and golden plovers and yellow legs. Local hunters are interested mostly in the dove hunting which is permissible under the federal law.

In answer to a query about which law to obey Mr. Baxter said: "Replying to your letter, permit me to advise that the federal regulations for an open season on doves in Ohio from September until December 15. While the state law prohibits the killing of the bird, our department is of the opinion that the federal law holds precedence. Therefore under this ruling, we are permitting dove shooting in Ohio."

RESTAURANT PRICES CUT.

Cleveland, Sept. 23.—A 10 to 15 percent reduction in restaurant food prices was ordered by Dr. R. C. Roueche, chairman of the Cuyahoga County Fair Price Commission at a joint meeting between the commission and members of the Cleveland Restaurant Men's Association. The order becomes effective Oct. 1.

CUT THIS OUT—IT IS WORTH MONEY

Cut out this slip, enclose with 5c and mail it to Foley & Co. 2835 Sheffield Ave., Chicago, Ill., writing your name and address clearly. You will receive in return a trial package containing Foley's Honey and Tar Compound for coughs, colds and croup; Foley Kidney Pills for pain in sides and back; rheumatism, backache, kidney and bladder ailments; and Foley Cathartic Tablets, a wholesome and thoroughly cleansing cathartic for constipation, biliousness, headache and sluggish bowels. Sayre & Hemphill.

BEAUTY CHATS

MORE HINTS TO HOUSEWIVES

The more I learn of the problem of the housewife who wants to keep herself young and good looking, the more I am convinced of one fact, and that it is not so important to tell the housewife what she should do as what she should avoid doing. To be specific:

One of the great problems of the woman who does her own work is this—her hair gets full of dust from her work and the pores of her skin which are opened when she grows hot from working hard, clog up with dust and soil. The result is dry hair and a muddy, coarse-grained complexion. "Now how," writes the housewife, "can I cure these troubles?"

The simplest way, my dear lady, is to avoid them. You will find, as you go along in life, that prevention is the simplest cure for any problem. In this particular case I should say that one way out of your difficulty is to keep your hair covered with a lawn or muslin cap all the time you work. I do not mean a bonnet cap. These are appropriate only in the dressing room and are not for the woman who is doing work. Put a cap over your head even when you are cooking for the steam from the stove contains a surprising amount of grease and no dainty woman wants to carry in her hair the stale odors of cooking.

For the rest of your work use carpet sweepers and mops whenever practical instead of brooms. Raise no more dust than is absolutely necessary. Use oilsoaked cheese cloth for dusters and so prevent as much of the flying dirt as possible. This will keep your hair and skin from suffering too much as the result of housework.

Troubled—You are about ten pounds underweight. You can attain an all-around development through special exercises, which you could take at any gymnasium. The Y. W. C. A. usually has a good course to offer young women, also swimming courses. In your case, the general course will be the proper thing, as it will develop the upper part of the body and also reduce the excess weight on the hips, as it exercises the muscles. You can hasten it also by taking a good tonic and eating regularly of a simple and nutritious diet.

Jes Jim.—Do not use cocoa butter on the face as it may cause the hair to grow; you may use it on any other part of the body with safety. It is very nourishing but it is such a heavy oil that it is apt to remain in the pores for some time before being entirely absorbed, and in the case of the face or the exposed parts of the neck dirt will collect in the pores and act as a fertilizer, when combined with a heavy oil, causing hair to grow—if there is that tendency. If you would care for a good nourishing cream and will send an addressed, stamped envelope, I will be pleased to send you a formula. The article you mention is a patented prescription and I do not know anything about its quality. I am pleased to hear of your success with the vaseline treatment for the lashes. You will help them very much with the clipping but do not take very much of the ends of the hairs and have some one do it who has a steady hand.

BASEBALL SCANDAL TO COME TO BOILING POINT ON THURSDAY

Chicago, Sept. 23.—Organized baseball's newest scandal, which simmered and bubbled at the first session of the grand jury investigation yesterday is expected to come to a boil today when J. C. "Rube" Benton, pitcher of the New York Giants appears to testify. The possibility of a number being scalded with the situation, by those conversant with the situation.

Benton is expected to answer the charges made by Charles I. "Buck" Herzog, second baseman of the Chicago Cubs that the Giants' pitcher won $3,800 by betting on Cincinnati in the world's series of 1919 after he had received a telegraphical "fix" from Hal Chase, former Giants' first baseman that it had been "fixed" for the Reds to win. Benton is expected also to back up his charges that he was offered $800 by Herzog to "throw" a game to the Cubs in September of last year.

Affidavits are in Herzog's possession and have been made public that Benton "scrapped together all the money he could get" and wagered on Cincinnati in the last world's series. The affidavits were made by Arthur Wilson, catcher and N. D. "Tony" Boeckel, third baseman of the Boston Braves.

Herzog declared he had obtained the depositions from Wilson and Boeckel after Benton had charged him with offering the pitcher a bribe to "throw" a game to the Cubs. "Buck" declared he went to the office of President John Heydler of the national league when he heard of Benton's charges and demanded an investigation. Benton was called in, Herzog declared, and reiterated his charge in the presence of President Heydler. After investigation Heydler gave Herzog a letter the player alleges, in which the head of the league expressed his belief that Herzog never had been involved in baseball gambling. The letter Herzog says, is in his possession.

Herzog's charges against Benton and Benton's charges against Herzog are only one angle of the investigation the grand jury has undertaken. Assistant State's Attorney Harvey Replogle conducting the investigation has made the public declaration "that the last world's series was not on the square," and that "from five to seven players on the White Sox team are involved."

Replogle's statement was believed to have been inspired by testimony given before the grand jury by Chas. A. Comisky, president of the White Sox, Ban Johnson, president of the American league and other witnesses who appeared yesterday.

A number of well known baseball men, players, managers and magnates are yet to appear before the grand jury.

ORGANIZE WOMEN'S REPUBLICAN CLUB IN SPRING VALLEY

A Women's Republican Club for Spring Valley township, to be a branch of the Greene County Women's Republican Club, was formed at an enthusiastic meeting which was held Tuesday night in Spring Valley.

Mrs. A. E. Faulkner of Xenia, president of the Greene county club, presided, and an address was made by Miss Anna McCullough of Dayton, who is working under the state Republican executive committee.

Eighty-nine women attended the meeting. Mrs. George Wood, who has taken an active interest in the organization of the Republican women, was elected chairman of the club, and the other officers are: First Vice Chairman, Mrs. F. M. Hiatt; Second Vice Chairman, Mrs. Joseph Leaming; Secretary, Miss Effie Conley and Treasurer, Miss Hannah Harper.

Arrangements are being made to form a school of instruction for the women voters in Spring Valley, and other districts where the clubs are formed.

It is expected to organize women in every township in the county. An organization meeting for Jefferson township, will be held in the auditorium of the centralized school Thursday night. The meeting which was to have been held in Yellow Springs Wednesday night, was postponed for one week, and will be held next Wednesday night.

STATE DEPUTY WARDEN PAYS STRIKING TRIBUTE TO NERV-WORTH

Frank H. Dinsmore, Former Ohio State Deputy Warden, Gave This Weighty Statement Recommending Nerv-Worth Some Time Ago.

"While in Columbus some time ago, I tried a sample dose of Nerv-Worth, and I then concluded I'd try a bottle when I got home," said Mr. Dinsmore, who lives in Coshocton, Ohio. "I was tired out and my system was run down, and I thought a tonic like Nerv-Worth would do me good, and I found it brought the answer. I am highly pleased with the results, and cheerfully recommend Nerv-Worth

LOCAL DRUGGIST TO ENTER BIRDS IN RACE TO ST. LOUIS HOME

Local interest has been aroused in the Rexall Pigeon Derby to be flown at St. Louis September 2, and in which a pair of homing pigeons, to be released by Sayre and Hemphill of this city will participate. In all 5,000 homing pigeons are to take part in this race, each having been bred hatched and trained in the Rexall Pigeon Lofts, St. Louis, the largest in the world.

"These lofts were built especially for the birds that are to compete in this race. More than 500 homing pigeons of the very best strains obtainable were purchased and established in the lofts as breeders. From this nucleus the younger birds have been bred until today, the loft boasts more live pigeons than any other in the world."

The race will be confined to Rexall druggists doing business within a five hundred mile radius of St. Louis. Each of these druggists will enter a pair of pigeons in the race, the birds being shipped to him from the St. Louis lofts. The birds will be released from a specified hour, handicaps as to distance having been carefully worked out and the first bird to "trap in" at the St. Louis lofts will receive the golden prize.

In each town the mayor either in person or through authority delegated to some pretty girl, will send the pigeons on their way with a written message beneath their wings for the Governor of Missouri who will greet the little racers upon their arrival.

The occasion of this race is for the amusement and entertainment of the 8,000 or more Rexall druggists of the United States who assemble in St. Louis on Sept. 25 for their annual convention, made especially interesting this year by the inauguration of the new $4,000,000 factory the United Drug Company has just completed in St. Louis for the manufacture of Rexall products.

Pigeon fanciers, the world over, are focusing attention upon this race and the Pigeon Section of the Signal Corps, U. S. Army, will officially observe the race and keep close check on the time made by the Rexall Pigeons. Frank P. Lucke, president of the International Federation of American Homing Pigeon Fanciers will be one of the judges of the race and he is keeping close watch of every step of progress made in its preparation.

FORMER RESIDENT OF COUNTY IS DEAD

George Leigh Hyslop, a former Greene courtainand son of the late Robert and Martha Bogle Hyslop, died last Saturday at his home at Deshler, Ohio, of complications, following an operation for appendicitis.

Mr. Hyslop was taken ill while he and his wife were on a visit to their son George R. Hyslop, who is professor in the agricultural college of the University of Oregon. He passed safely through an operation for appendicitis, but after his return home again became ill.

Mr. Hyslop is survived by his wife, who was before marriage Miss Julia Ashe, his son, two brothers and a sister. W. W. Hyslop of near Springfield, Frank Hyslop of Philadelphia, and Miss Henrietta Hyslop of New York. Dr. James Hyslop of New York, who was head of the American Society for Psychical Research, and who died last June, was a brother of the decedent. Mrs. E. M. Carruthers of this city was an aunt of Mr. Hyslop, and he had many other relatives in this vicinity.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at the late home, and burial took place at Deshler. Mr. Hyslop's nephew the Rev. Ernest McClellan of Belle Center conducted the service assisted by a local minister. The pallbearers were his son and five nephews: Roy Ralph and Earl McClellan of Greene county; Earl Hyslop and Homer Bowers of Springfield.

SUNSHINE IN HOME AND MOONSHINE IN BARN SAYS SPEAKER

(By International News Service)
Aberdeen, Wash., Sept. 23.—The following is an extract from a speech delivered by C. H. Forney, attorney, of Centralia, Wash., before the Washington State Bar Association at its last session here:

"As little as the Canadians conceive the principles of economics and the law of search, still less do they comprehend the possibilities of prohibition liquors and the making thereof. Under modern American methods each householder is a manufacturing chemist. The producer and consumer are brought into intimate relation; the long haul is eliminated; the value of the output is increased even unto twenty dollars a quart, thereby adding enormously to the national wealth and thus making further taxation possible. Demand is created by confiscation of the supply. Longer boots are worn by our yeomanry, which serves to augment the supply of beef to the hungry poor. Our people are made prosperous and happy; there is sunshine in the home and moonshine in the barn. The product itself is correspondingly increased in strength and efficiency. It is free from the burdens of age; it hath the properties of youth. It maketh up the young man's feet. It maketh the strong man to say 'Ah-ha-ha,' which is well. It maketh the old man pay in the valley.

"He who is filled therewith scorneth the multitude of the fetters of brass. Thou canst not draw him up with a hook nor play with him as a bird. He cannot be made afraid; he mocketh at fear. He is given the power to see serpents. His voice is mightily strengthened and men hear him from afar. The ordinance of the city he holdeth for naught. He causeth a disturbance to rise to a riot; a riot to an insurrection.

"Contrast this progressive state of affairs with the backwardness of the Canadians, who as little understand the potency of concentration as the value of dissipation."

SENATOR HARDING HAS TWO TO ONE LEAD ON GOVERNOR COX IN OHIO STRAW VOTE

Senator Warren G. Harding has a two to one lead in the first figures announced by the Rexall Drug Company in the presidential straw vote being taken through the 8,000 Rexall stores in the country.

The first local and state figures were published Wednesday at Sayre & Hemphill drug store, the local Rexall store. No figures on the national straw balloting have been given out.

The state figures, as displayed in the drug store window show the following vote in Ohio:

	Male	Female	Total
Harding	6217	2239	8456
Cox	3322	924	4246

The local vote to date is as follows:

	Male	Female	Total
Harding	38	19	57
Cox	13	6	19

It is interesting to note that locally both men and women returned majorities in the same proportion for the Republican candidate. The figures show that just half as many women as men voted for Harding and that the same ratio exists in the vote for Governor Cox, the Democratic candidate.

The figures will be sent out by the Rexall Company again on September 2, and after October 1, they will be renewed every day.

GREENE COUNTY REPUBLICANS ARE INVITED TO RALLY

Republicans of Greene County have a cordial invitation to attend an old-time rally and flag-raising that Republicans of Madison county are to have at Wilson's Corners on Saturday, October 2, according to word from that place. Senator Warren G. Harding, the party's standard bearer, will be there as the guest of honor.

Location of Wilson's Corners is not known generally. It is on the Middle Pike, five miles north of West Jefferson. Greene County motorists can reach West Jefferson by traveling eastward on the National Road or by taking High Street through London. The turn to the Middle Pike is made right in the heart of West Jefferson. On rally day, the route in the vicinity of West Jefferson will be found plainly marked.

Senator Harding who will reach Wilson's Corners at noon, will take an active part in the raising of the American flag and will make an address. Congressman S. D. Fess and Mrs. Rose Morarty will speak also. The famous Republican Glee Club of Columbus and the renowned Rainbow band will be there too.

Two big tents will be up as guards against inclement weather. Of room for parking autos, there is plenty. Many Republicans have planned to make a picnic party of it, bringing along the required food. To one and all, the Madison County Executive Committee will extend a hearty welcome.

MAKE RICH HAUL.
Boston, Sept. 20.—It was pay day on the fishing schooner Ethel Merriam at the fish pier, South Boston. Each of the seven members of the little Edgartown fishing crew received $605 for two weeks' work. The schooner arrived at the pier with 89 swordfish which sold in the market for $5,770.

The share which each man received was the largest ever made by a swordfisher's crew, considering the time spent on the fishing grounds.

MINUTE MOVIES

TO REBUILD CANADA'S COMIC VALENTINE RAILWAY EFFECTIVELY

Edmonton, Alta., Sept. 23.—Canada's comic valentine railway, the Edmonton Dunvegan & British Columbia will soon be transformed from a 400-mile stretch of steel hump into an efficient and profitable line. The work of repairing it has begun by the Canadian Pacific, which recently took over the management of the road for five years on the privilege of purchasing it.

Though it is the only rail outlet of the rich Peace River Valley, the road has been allowed to fall into a state of disrepair that turned it into a tragic joke. It took three weeks for trains to make the journey from Spirit River to Edmonton. The roadbed was overgrown with tall weeds and grass. In heavy rains the rails for miles would sink out of sight in mud. With trains at a standstill crews had difficulty in finding the lost road. Having prospected ahead and located it, they had to labor for several days to dig the rails out of the ground and relay the track.

In the meantime hay would be cut along the road to feed shipments of cattle or sheep. Passengers had leisure to hunt rabbits or whip neighboring streams for trout which they broiled over camp fires. The train that made the trip without running off the track won fame as a miracle worker. Travel became so dangerous it was difficult to hire train crews.

Alberta business men and the farmers of the Peace River country are rejoicing over the transfer of the joke road to the efficient management of the Canadian Pacific. The Alberta legislature has appropriated $1,000,000 to repair and equip the road. The Peace River valley has been settling rapidly. Warmed by chinook winds and with eighteen hours of sunshine a day in the ripening season, it is a wheat yield of the region last year was 7,000,000 bushels. Livestock is an important source of farm wealth. With such a productive region to draw upon, there seems no reason why the railroad should not become one of the most profitable branches of the Canadian Pacific system.

NATIONAL LEAGUE SCRAP ABOUT OVER

New York, Sept. 23.—Brooklyn and the Giants sat back today and rested on the eve of their tangle which will settle the location of the 1920 national league pennant.

The American league Chicago and Cleveland were ready to fly at each other in the first of a three game series that may decide where Ban Johnson's flag will wave.

The national league scrap is practically over. If the Dodgers win so much as one game of the five they have scheduled with the Giants it will be impossible for the New Yorkers to knock them out of at least a tie for the lead. One more game is scheduled between Brooklyn and the Graves, in addition to the quintet with New York and it is stretching a point to imagine that the Boston gang might prove a stumbling block for the Dodgers. Two out of the five games with the Giants will clinch the bunting for Brooklyn.

It is not improbable that the American league hunt will go down to the final series of the season. Cleveland can practically clinch the flag with three straight victories, but the White Sox have been going too strong to allow the Indians to trample them in any such fashion. The Sox however, have not been overly strong as a road club this year. Cleveland is exerting every ounce of strength in the last fight.

The Yankees will be idle today but tomorrow they start a series with Washington in New York.

FREIGHT TRAIN DERAILED.

Pueblo, Colo., Sept. 23.—An extra Denver and Rio Grande freight train eastbound from Salido, was derailed at Taylor's Point, about 30 miles west of Canon City. Eleven cars left the tracks and were damaged considerably. No one was injured.

SINN FEINER SHOT AND KILLED BY UNIFORMED MEN

Crime Takes Place In Dublin Hotel; Murderers Escape.

Dublin, Sept. 23.—County Councilor John Lynch, a prominent Limerick Sinn Feiner, was shot and killed when in his hotel apartment in the center of Dublin. His assailants are alleged to have been "Black and Tan" police. The murder took place at 3 o'clock when uniformed men entered the hotel and went to the room of their victim.

Various versions of the affair leave it surrounded with mystery. It appears that the porter admitted a dozen men, who said they belonged to the military. They searched the register and rushed upstairs, leaving part of their number to guard the porter.

Five minutes later all the men left, the porter believing a raid for arms had taken place. Fifteen minutes later police arrived, stating they had been instructed to take charge of a body in Room 6, which proved to be that of Lynch.

Guests in Room 4 and 7 of the hotel said that they had heard no unusual noise.

The damage done by the "Black and Tan" in Balbriggan in their raids Monday night and yesterday, after the shooting of two police officers in that town, is estimated to be 200,000 pounds. Among the dwellings destroyed were those of Mrs. Andrew White, sister-in-law of Eamon de Valera, and Lawrence Flanagan, brother-in-law of de Valera.

AMONG G. A. R.

Harding was a big favorite in a straw vote among members of the

G. A. R. and their families returning from the encampment at Indianapolis on a train Wednesday evening, according to Col. I. T. Cummings of this city.

Two Dayton men, one a Democrat and the other a Republican, tiring of the long journey on the train, conducted the straw balloting. The figures obtained were as follows:

Harding	190
Cox	30
Watkins	6

The Brunswick Method of Reproduction

"Certainly Better!"

People marvel daily at the Brunswick Method of Reproduction

THE Brunswick Method of Reproduction changes one's ideas of what a phonograph should be. This new method, although we picture above but two of its features, is a unified and scientific development of all that is best in reproducing and amplification.

Note that one feature is the Ultona, an all-record reproducer. This is an exclusive idea, giving to the Brunswick owner the whole realm of record music, unrestricted.

At a turn of the hand, the Ultona presents to each type of record the proper needle and the proper diaphragm. Each type of record is played exactly as intended, but with a finer reproducer — one that brings out hitherto hidden tonal values. No makeshift attachment is necessary.

Note another feature of the Brunswick Method of Reproduction — the Tone Amplifier. It is vastly different. The moulded wooden amplifying chamber is all wood and oval in shape. There is no cast-metal connection or throat.

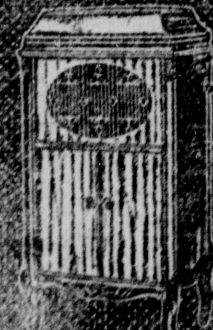

This development is in accord with acoustic laws. Tone waves can vibrate properly.

If you seek the utmost in tone quality, then you must hear The Brunswick. You will appreciate the superiority at once.

Ask also to hear Brunswick Records — the latest popular "hits" and the finest operatic numbers. Brunswick Records can be played on any phonograph with steel or fibre needle.

AFTERMATH OF GREAT WAR NOW WORKING AGAINST INDIA

New York, Sept. 20.—Forty-five years' service in India has not revealed such distressing economic conditions as exist there today, is a statement made by a missionary and embodied in the 106th annual report of the American Baptist Foreign Missionary Society now being printed.

W. L. Ferguson, D. D., South India, substantiates this declaration in the report with this summing-up of the situation:

"The aftermath of the great war has been upon us, manifesting itself in various ways. General unrest among the people, political agitation such as India has not known for centuries, if ever commercial disorganization due to shipping difficulties, unsettled exchange and other causes, strikes, labor disputes and lockouts; prices high, higher, ever higher, exceeding what were formerly considered famine rates; pestilence, diseases and death much distress and deep poverty among the masses, and great fortune and prosperity among the few; shortage of crops and crime rampant everywhere; higher wages for laborers and most salaried people, but increased earning much below the advance in the cost of living; India as a whole using paper currency and metal coins increasing by silver and gold going into hoarding or export. Poverty and prosperity, want and wealth every where manifested and the rush for material possession more evident than ever.

The report proper casts this further light on the plight of India: "Last July in all India there were a million and a quarter persons on relief work or receiving free famine aid. The price of foodstuffs tabled and quadrupled. Exports of grain insufficient rain, influenza and profiteering were added to war as fundamental causes of the economic extremity. The Government estimates a shortage of food this year due to a decrease in acreage cultivated and poor crops."

"Conditions in South India have equalled the worst ever known to the inhabitants of this poverty stricken country. Our mission stations, besieged day and night by throngs of hungry people crying for food, were able to offer but slight aid, the appeal was so great. Men and women, through sheer weakness, staggered about like drunken people. Suffering was also intensified through lack of drinking water and an epidemic of the cholera took great tolls of human life. Our missionaries provided relief to the best of their ability, and for months over a hundred children without protection, food on clothing were fed and sheltered at the Baptist compound at Sooripattam. Tamine camps set up by the Government often fed as many as 5,000 at a time. Historic old shade trees along the military road from Madras to Hyderabad for a distance of forty miles were stripped of all foliage to provide fodder for the battle.

Habit's a terrible thing. Life should be fresh and clear-cut—Why, even your trouble is good if it shakes you out of a rut.

SPORT BRIEFS

The Reds were practically kicked out of the race for second place when the Pirates twice trimmed them. 2 to 0 and 3 to 1.

The Giants won 7 to 2 from the Cubs and now seem certain to take second place money.

Lyons, a Cardinal rookie, held the Phillies safe and the St. Louisians won 4 to 2.

Brooklyn crept up on the National League pennant with a 3 to 1 victory over the Braves.

RHINE EXPENSE MOUNTS
Paris, Sept. 23.—Frederic Francois Marshal, Finance Minister stated that the expense incurred through the Rhine occupation were estimated at the end of March to have reached 18,000,000,000 francs. The amount paid by Germany on account was 13,088,000,000 marks by the end of July, the equivalent of 402,000,000 francs.

AUTO VICTIMS MISSING.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 23.—Although persons who saw a large touring car plunge down a steep incline into the Detroit river asserted there were two persons in the machine, no trace of them was found when the machine was hoisted to the surface yesterday.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: A friend of mine has enlisted in the United States service. I do not know which branch, army or navy. To whom shall I write to secure his address?

Are the boys that enlist now trained in the United States before they are sent across? If a letter is sent to a boy in camp and he fails before it reaches him, is it forwarded to him or returned to the writer?

A BOY READER.
If you know his parents, write to them for his address. In case you write to the Army and Navy Departments for information, enclose a stamped and addressed envelope for your reply.
Boys who enlist now are trained here.

Usually the letters are forwarded. * * *
Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl of thirteen. There are two other girls, one is my age and the other is ten years old. Would you please tell me of some way to earn some money before school starts? We would like to earn some money so as to buy some clothes. We live on a farm. BUSYBODIES. Can you make good apple jelly, canned tomatoes, catsup, or anything on that order? You might try it and then sell your wares to automobilists who pass by the farm on Saturdays and Sundays. Flowers and fresh fruits and vegetables are also easily sold. It is not an easy task for girls of your age to make money, because there are so few possibilities. In case you have a stand be sure to have it very neat and attractive. Cover it with white paper or white cloth. Dress as neatly as you can and be sure your hands and finger nails are clean.

"JUST A GIRL"

BY JANE PHELPS

ZENA QUESTIONS HERSELF CHAPTER 124.

In the days and weeks which followed my talk with Jennie Wilcox I avoided Mr. Betts in every way possible. And I also never failed to say something nice about Jennie when he was within hearing, even if I said it to the office boy. I had learned to like her, although we never could be intimates. She was a better educated girl than Mary, of a fairly well to do family in a small town near Chicago, but she had none of Mary's delightful personality, her wonderful intuition, and sense of humor that had kept me from giving up in those dark days when I first came to Chicago.

To my delight I thought I saw signs of renewed interest in her on Mr. Betts' part. One day I said something to Mr. Claxton about Jennie. He replied: "There was a time I feared I should lose her as well as Miss Baker. Betts seemed very much impressed. I think she would make him a very good wife. She is a thoroughly good girl, and is fond of him, I am sure."

I longed to tell him what I knew of Jennie, but of course I did not. I only said: "She is in love with him I think."

"He hasn't annoyed you with his attentions lately, has he?"

The question came as a surprise. I flushed, then replied:

"No, he has not annoyed me," I did not add—"because I would not allow him to." But I was sure Mr. Claxton sensed there had been something because he turned away, and spoke sharply:

"Please take this letter!"

These sudden changes, which occurred seldom, always rather fussed me. I didn't understand them. But I had learned that an office girl has no right to question the moods or even the most thoughtful of employers. So I picked up my pad and waited.

The letter finished, he reverted again to the subject. "Mr. Betts hasn't tried to make love to you—Miss Stewart, has he? Please be honest with me. If he has and it is agreeable to you; that is your affair and his. But if he tries to force his attentions upon you please let me know."

"I surely will!" I looked him squarely in the eyes. I did not call Mr. Betts' peculiar proposal "love-making" in any sense of the term. It had been a cold-blooded affair, and was ended for all time. There was no need to confide to him what I felt might hurt Jennie in some way; what might either cause Mr. Betts to lose his position, or be angry, and perhaps "take it out on her." As Mary always said:

"Thank you!" In his usual tone. After he left the room I wondered just why he took such an interest in me. I knew I did my work well, but so did his other employees. A hot flush spread over my face as Mary's insistent declaration that he cared for me other than as an office girl came into my mind. Could it be possible that the wealthy, cultured broker really cared for me, his private secretary? It was absurd. Yet the thought would not leave me. I had a slight embarrassment several times because of a certain something in Mr. Claxton's manner; but today when speaking of Betts there had been a difference. It was almost as if he were jealous of me, instead of simply trying to save me annoyance.

I tried to reason with myself that such a thing was impossible, and because I knew that were it so I would have to find another position I succeeded. It was absurd; I would think of it no more. But also I determined to be more distant when with him, not to talk of anything but business.

I did not realize how the occasional little friendly chats had made my position not only bearable, but attractive. He had talked with me once to a while as the men I had known in what now seemed almost like a former existence had talked. I often felt that I had lived in one world, had died, and then come to life in another world. These chats with Mr. Claxton, and my mother's letters were all that I had to remind me of that world in which I had lived when dad was with us, and I was the petted only child of a supposedly millionaire. It would be hard to give up these talks. But I mustn't let him hold me cheap, neither must I let him be so foolish as to fall in love with me.

I blushed at the thought. Then visualized Kenneth Lawrence as being in his place. Would I be so careful that he did not care for me?

The Housewives Burden

When a woman is almost distracted from overwork, her home is in disorder, crying children, and on top of all is suffering from backache, bearing down pains, or some other form of feminine ills, then she should remember that hundreds of women in just her condition have been restored to health and regained their youthful strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and not rest until she has given it a fair trial.

Proof that it Restored the Health of These Two Women

Cairo, Ill.—"Some time ago I got so bad with female trouble that I thought I would have to be operated on. I had a bad displacement. My right side would pain me and I was so nervous I could not hold a glass of water. Many times I would have to stop my work and sit down or I would fall on the floor in a faint. I consulted several doctors and every one told me the same but I kept fighting to keep from having the operation. I had read so many times of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it helped my sister so I began taking it. I have never felt better than I have since then and I keep house and am able to do all my work. The Vegetable Compound is certainly one grand medicine."—Mrs. J. R. MATTHEWS, 3311 Sycamore Street, Cairo, Ill.

Chattanooga, Tenn.—"I used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before my baby came when I could no longer keep up. It strengthened my back and relieved me of the ill effect which so often develops at such times. That was my first experience with the Vegetable Compound. Years afterwards I took it during the Change of Life and got along so well I scarcely ever had to lie down during the day and seldom had dizzy, fainting spells. I am now well and strong, can do all my housework with perfect ease and it is a comfort to me to be able to say to other suffering women 'take Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine and be strong.' I will be glad to have you use my name if it will be the means of helping any one."—Mrs. R. A. FAIRBURN, 606 Orchard Knob Ave., Chattanooga, Tenn.
